This is designed to save fuel for the munition factories and ships.

But more than this, the British Government is urging use of GAS, as more efficient than coal or wood.

It saves heat units—and money for the consumer. This is as true in Honolulu as in England. We'll be glad to demonstrate this truth for you, in your own home. Just

'SLAVE MART' AT THE BIJOU

Combining the elements of dramatic interest and stirring animation is the sensational film, "The Slave Mart," a Kimberly feature production in five reels, which opens at the Bijou theater tonight. While not risqué, as a number of local persons who were given a private exhibition of the film have intimated, nevertheless it deals with a world-wide theme which has set more than one mind pondering. Pregnant truths are unfolded, exposing conditions in metropolitan centers that will hardly bear the light of investigation. For the reason that youthful minds are so easily open to impressions the management has decided not to permit boys and girls under 16 to the performances.

"The Slave Mart" deals with a beautiful Italian immigrant, Maria Gramada, who on her arrival at New York is lured by a gang of human vultures under the guise of friends of her aunt, Jack Spaulding, a society man, happily senses what is under way and intervenes to save Maria from a terrible fate.

A friendship begun in such unusual circumstances ripens into love. Maria is admitted to the Spaulding home, and in the course of time goes as a guest of the family to their seaside home, where she meets a former sweetheart of Jack's. In the meantime in the course of an evening's entertainment they witness a cabaret feature, "Zuleika, the Odalisque in the Slave Mart."

The old affection between Jack and his former sweetheart takes on new zest under the flame of their companionship. Maria, her heart sorely wounded, in a moment of jealousy and despair, resolves on a revenge similar to Zuleika's, but fate intervenes and rounds out the love story in a happy way.

It is a sensational picture that will interest, featuring Marguerite Snow and James Cruz.

SECOND SELINSKY RECITAL TONIGHT

Another opportunity for enjoyment will be given music lovers tonight in the second recital of Max Selinsky, the noted Russian violinist, who is giving a series of three recitals in the city. His first recital a week ago was an emphatic success, and without doubt an even larger audience will greet the artist tonight in Mission Memorial hall.

This master of technique and shading is one of the few great violinists of today, and his stay here is much to the advantage of those who appreciate really good music and regret that so little of it can be heard in Honolulu. His third and last recital will be given at the same place a week from tonight. The following program will be given this evening:

Sonata in A major for violin and piano ..... Cesar Nanck
(a) Pavan ..... Radel
(b) Frolic of the Waters ..... Radel
Chaconne ..... Bach
(unaccompanied)
Scherzo C minor ..... Chopin
(a) Variations ..... Corelli-Tartini-Kreisler
(b) Nocturne Opp ..... Chopin
(c) Bond of the Goblins ..... Bazzini

NEW SERIAL IS ON AT LIBERTY

The new program which opened yesterday at the Liberty theater is particularly notable. It includes the opening chapter of one of the greatest serial picture stories ever put on the screen in Honolulu, "The Mystery of the Double Cross," in which Molly King is featured with Leon Barry. George Beban appears in a serio comic production, "A Roadside Impresario," which is a feature of the first order of merit.

"The Mystery of the Double Cross" is a love story of baffling situations and gripping developments with an element of mystery that keeps the interest at highest tension. The George Beban feature is a Pallas-Paramount offering. The star is depicted as a roaming Italian with a trick bear, itself a character full of interest. While trying to earn enough money in a restaurant to bail Bruno, the bear, out of jail, where he has been incarcerated for wrecking an apiary, the Italian becomes involved in a black-mailing plot directed against one of the prominent figures of the community. The story is worked out in a most appealing manner and the star has put a wonderful human touch into the climax.

VIVID WESTERN STORY AT HAWAII

A William S. Hart picture is the feature of the current program at the Hawaii theater and probably that is all that it is necessary to say to stir the interest of Honolulu theatergoers. It should be added, however, that "The Gun Fighter" in which the star is appearing has been heralded widely as one of his greatest pictures.

In the story the celebrated delinquent of Western roles is seen as the leader of a band of outlaws, Cliff Hudspeeth, who has won for himself the title of "The Killer." It is a story of regeneration and self-sacrifice, but the hero does not marry and 'live happily ever after' at the close. Instead he yields up his own life to save the heroine, played by Marjorie Wilson, and the closing scene, one of intense dramatic power, shows the girl riding away to safety on Hart's horse as he sinks down to die in the desert.

New thrills are supplied in the latest instalment of "The Railroad Raiders" which is a part of the program. Bert Carlson, formerly of the Monte Carter company, who recently began an engagement at the Hawaii, is doing acceptable work at the organ.

UNVEIL LONDON'S BUST TONIGHT

Congressman John A. Elston of California will unveil the bust of Jack London at the Pan-Pacific gathering at the "Laniaka" this evening, the first anniversary of the day on which the ashes of the late great writer were interred in the funeral mound at Glen Ellen. Congressman Elston is from Jack London's own district in California and knew the famous writer when the latter was but a boy.

The flag to be used in the unveiling will be the one made by the late Queen Liliuokalani and presented by her at the first Balboa day celebration at the Pan-Pacific club. This flag was the last one of Hawaii made by the queen herself.

It is expected that more than 100 members of the Pan-Pacific club will be on hand Monday evening at the "Laniaka" to meet the congressional party members. Congressman Elston will say a few words in unveiling the bust and R. O. Matheson will reply for Hawaii. A Hawaiian, another congressman, a Chinese, a senator, a Korean and a Japanese will also be called upon to speak. The unveiling will be informal and after the supper the congressmen will be invited to visit the dioramas in the Pan-Pacific pavilion and also to visit the Pan-Pacific club grounds in Royal Hawaiian grounds.

COLLEGE CLUB TO GIVE COMEDY

"The Glory of Their Years," the beautiful little comedy which will be given by the College Club at the Lanika theatre Friday and Saturday evenings following Thanksgiving, won the Macdowell prize of $600 for its author, John Redhead Froome, Jr.

Professor Baker of Harvard university, with his "Forty-seven Workshop" class, first produced this play at the Hasty Pudding theatre in Cambridge, Mass. Since that time it has been twice revised and rewritten by Mr. Froome, who, working under Professor Baker's directions, has given it a finish and polish that should give it a place with the world's best comedies.

Honolulu will have an opportunity of seeing it Friday night at its first presentation in its latest and perfected form.

After nine o'clock this morning holders of tickets may exchange them for reserved seats at the Lanika theatre.
